

Accessibility statement for LTI Student Guide

This accessibility statement applies to <https://www.ltistudentguide.glos.ac.uk>.

This website is run by the University of Gloucestershire. We want as many people as possible to be able to use this website. For example, that means you should be able to:

- change colours, contrast levels and fonts
- zoom in up to 300% without the text spilling off the screen
- navigate most of the website using just a keyboard
- navigate most of the website using speech recognition software
- listen to most of the website using a screen reader (including the most recent versions of JAWS, NVDA and VoiceOver)

We've also made the website text as simple as possible to understand.

AbilityNet has advice on making your device easier to use if you have a disability.

How accessible this website is

We know some parts of this website may not fully be fully accessible in certain situations as some of the content is hidden on page load and repositioned using JavaScript. Turning off JavaScript and CSS will result in all of the page content being visible in a structured and organised way. In standard mode the page has been designed to fully work using a keyboard for navigation.

Compliance status

This website is close to being fully compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard and passes the WebAim accessibility checking tool (<https://wave.webaim.org/>) with no errors.

Non-accessible content

Some of the page content is hidden on page load and revealed by clicking tiles. There may be issues on some screen readers with this functionality and further work will be done through the rest of 2020 to test and improve this.

The purpose of this site is to provide links to content on other University of Gloucestershire websites. These other sites will be covered by their own accessibility statements and may not be AA compliant.
